

Employee Certification Tracking For Healthcare

“ECT Monitors Licensing, Certifications & More”

Human Capital has created a new software tool for assisting healthcare employers with tracking important dates for licensing, re-certifications, inoculations, and more. In fact, this new proprietary system can track up to 12 individual items, per employee, per pay period. The new software tool works in concert with our payroll software to produce accurate and timely reports. The system then issues a reminder to the healthcare employer so important dates can be monitored.

How Does ECT Benefit the Healthcare Employer?

An employee’s information (RN, LPN, CNA, PA) is entered into the system with specific dates for such items as license renewal, when educational credits need to be completed, or when inoculations need to be documented. The system will produce reports for the employer, showing dates of when each item must be satisfied in order to be in compliance, not to speak of their mandates of employment. The reports are for each individual employee, and they are issued on a predetermined schedule. For example, if the employer wants notification 90 days in advance of a license renewal, or 60 day advance notice for continuing education, the system will produce a customized report accordingly.

The impact of ECT is quite significant in terms of addressing all requirements which are mandatory for employment, maintaining compliance across the entire staff, and meeting any/all audit questions with regard to employer’s responsibility.
